

THE SECRETARY OF COMMERCE
Washington, D.C. 20230

On behalf of President Bush, I am pleased to congratulate the members of the International Association of Businesses on your seventh anniversary.

This Texas-based organization started life in a small way, but in the best tradition of our free enterprise system it has grown steadily in size and scope, now serving 25,000 member enterprises worldwide. In providing educational programs, informational services and other benefits to the self-employed and to operators of very small businesses, the association can make a significant contribution to economic progress.

President Bush stated soon after taking office that the growth of commerce, both nationally and internationally, is the key to guaranteeing that America's most productive and prosperous days are still ahead. I subscribe wholeheartedly to his optimistic view of our future and the benefits a vigorous economy can bring for all of us.

I wish you continued success.
